Dennis Daudelin Takes Over as Publisher and Editor of *More Woodturning Magazine

Sarasota, FL – Dennis Daudelin, one of the founders of the popular web site, Woodturning Online, takes over as publisher and editor of More Woodturning Magazine upon the retirement of Fred Holder, the founder, publisher and editor of the magazine.

“The acquisition of More Woodturning Magazine will allow us to provide subscribers with in depth coverage of woodturning news, events, projects, articles, and product reviews,” said Dennis. “The magazine is an ideal complement to our very popular information resource site, Woodturning Online.”

“I am very excited by the opportunity to take on this new role and look forward to working with old and new friends in the woodturning community to deliver the best possible online magazine,” said Dennis. “To that end, one of my first steps will be to survey our existing subscribers to get their recommendations on how to shape the future of the magazine. I also look forward to using my extensive computer experience to update the web site and the magazine delivery method.”

“We believe advertisers will also appreciate the added value of reaching both magazine subscribers and website visitors with common programs”, said Richard DiPerna, co-founder of Woodturning Online.

ABOUT WOODTURNING ONLINE

Dennis and his partner, Richard DiPerna, started Woodturning Online over twelve years ago and have provided wood turners around the globe with reliable information, project tutorials, valuable articles, community information and free monthly newsletters. Woodturning Online can be found here:

ABOUT MORE WOODTURNING MAGAZINE

Fred Holder created More Woodturning in October 1996. Over the last 20 years, More Woodturning started out as a newsletter, grew into a color magazine, and evolved into an online color magazine distributed in PDF format.

“I am all of 85 years young and finding it more difficult to put together the magazine with each issue. I am very pleased that Dennis will be carrying it on. Dennis designed my web site and has maintained it for me over the last several years”, stated Fred as he prepared to hand over the publishing responsibilities.
